DISASTER RESTORATION SPECIALISTS

September Luncheon Guest Speaker: Jennifer Dinning

Jennifer's presentation will examine the Washington Supreme Court's recent decision on a certified question in Preferred Contractors Insurance Company, Risk Retention Group, LLC v. Baker and Son Construction, Inc., et al., and the reasons why the Court found that the particular combination of claims made and occurrence based features included in an insurance policy rendered it unenforceable as a matter of public policy.

Jennifer is a shareholder with Soha & Lang. Her practice is devoted to insurance coverage for both personal and commercial lines, including coverage opinion and analysis, resolution of coverage disputes involving the duties of indemnification and defense, and insurance litigation, including first party coverage, third party coverage, insurance fraud, and bad faith defense. Jennifer has represented insurance companies in this regard for 13 years. In her spare time, Jennifer plays guitar and sings, and has performed in Washington and Oregon.

For more info on Jennifer head to <https://www.sohalang.com/jennifer-dinning/>

CLAIMS CONVERSATIONS

with Roger Howson

Claims Dispute Resolution
PSAA Newsletter Editor and Education Chair

Judging by the volume of unsolicited job offers for claims adjusting (in-office, field, catastrophe, remote, management, and executive) I receive daily, sometimes hourly, there must be a dearth of qualified insurance claims professionals. I suspect that most of you are similarly inundated with invitations to apply for any number of open positions in the exciting world of insurance claims.

As a PSAA public service I offer you a boilerplate application essay that informs your prospective employer the value of your experience as an insurance claims professional.

Are there any significant experiences you have had, or accomplishments you have realized, that have helped to define you as a person?

I am a dynamic figure, often seen scaling walls and crushing ice. I have been known to remodel train stations on my lunch breaks, making them more efficient in the area of heat retention.

I translate ethnic slurs for Cuban refugees, I write award-winning operas, I manage time efficiently. Occasionally, I tread water for three days in a row.

I woo women with my sensuous and god-like trombone playing. I can pilot bicycles up severe inclines with unflagging speed, and I cook Thirty-Minute Brownies in 20 minutes. I am an expert in stucco, a veteran in love and an outlaw in Peru.

Using only a hoe and a large glass of water, I once single-handedly defended a small village in the Amazon Basin from a horde of ferocious army ants. I play bluegrass cello...I am the subject of numerous documentaries. When I'm bored, I build large suspension bridges in my yard. I enjoy urban hang-gliding.

On Wednesdays, after work, I repair electrical appliances free of charge.

I am an abstract artist, a concrete analyst, and a ruthless bookie. Critics worldwide swoon over my original line of corduroy evening wear.

I don't perspire, I am a private citizen, yet I receive fan mail...Last summer I toured New Jersey with a traveling centrifugal force demonstration...My deft floral arrangements have earned me fame in international botany circles. Children trust me.

I can hurl tennis rackets at small moving objects with deadly accuracy. I once read Paradise Lost, Moby Dick, and David Copperfield in one day and still had time to refurbish an entire dining room that evening. I have performed several covert operations for the CIA. I sleep once a week; when I do sleep, I sleep in a chair. While on vacation in Canada, I successfully negotiated with a group of terrorists who had seized a small bakery. The laws of physics do not apply to me.

I balance, I weave, I dodge, I frolic, and my bills are all paid. On weekends, to let off steam, I participate in full-contact origami. Years ago, I discovered the meaning of life but forgot to write it down. I have made extraordinary four-course meals using only a mouli and a toaster oven. I breed prize-winning clams. I have won bullfights in San Juan, cliff-diving competitions in Sri Lanka, and spelling bees at the Kremlin. I have played Hamlet, I have performed open heart surgery, and I have spoken with Elvis.

All of this because I am a claims adjuster.

If you are looking for work or merely curious about other employment opportunities, please feel free to plagiarize this application essay, because I plagiarized and modified it from an essay written by Hugh Gallagher when applying to New York University.

Speaking of employment opportunities, plagiarism, modifications, and exciting new beginnings, you do NOT want to miss the inauguration of PSAA's 2022-2023 season on this coming Friday, September 16th at 11:30am at the Seattle Renaissance Hotel. Think of this as the first day of school (without the teachers' strike) where we all catch up with our cohorts, contacts, and community at large to learn what's new, who's where, and how things have changed since we last congregated. You don't want to be left behind.

PSAA will explain the expansion of our PSAA Board of Directors, modernization of our mission, inclusion of insurance professionals not previously active through PSAA, and the introduction of continuing education credits. Our world has changed significantly since early 2020, so PSAA decided to transform our organization into a more dynamic, relevant, and responsive force in the industry. On Page in this issue you will find the biography of our newest PSAA Board Member, attorney Paul Rosner of Soha and Lang. Unfortunately, Paul will be in court during our September 16th meeting, so one of his Soha and Lang partners, Jennifer Dinning, will be presenting a legal update in his stead. You will find Jennifer's biography on page 4 in this newsletter. I would tell you the topic of her presentation, but Jennifer hasn't thought of it yet... in fact, the first she will know she is presenting to PSAA on Friday, September 16th will be when (if?) she reads this newsletter. (Jennifer, call me...)

We are looking forward to seeing every one of you at the meeting (especially you, Slaed).

contact: rosner@sohalang.com ~ 206.654.6601

Paul is a managing shareholder with Soha & Lang. Paul Rosner, J.D., CPCU, has worked in the property and casualty field since 1989. He is a former casualty adjuster, large loss property adjuster, claims supervisor, and claims manager. As an attorney, he focuses his practice on property and casualty insurance coverage and bad faith litigation. He has also served as an expert witness on insurance bad faith and claims handling.

Paul is a frequent author and lecturer on insurance coverage and bad faith issues. He is a regular contributor to the Around the Nation column of Claims Management Magazine. His lectures include presentations to attorneys and insurance professionals. When not practicing law Paul enjoys spending time with his family, running, hiking, camping, and mountain biking.
